Brianese Marmi S.n.c. di Brianese Sandro e F.lli

Brianese Marmi was founded in 1969 and, over the years, has built up a national and international clientele. This development has translated into growth. Customer satisfaction is the key to our success. With continually invest in staff training, and commitment and professionalism guarantee customers the best solutions to their needs.

We can provide technologically advanced solutions for both renewable energy and for more traditional forms. We also do work on traditional products such as stone, granite, and marble, in addition to innovative products such as marble-based or quartz-based conglomerates for both building and interior design.

Our Company has many years' experience in the heating sector, and our vast range of products allows you to choose which technologically advanced and aesthetically pleasing solution you wish to opt for. We have also been working for more than thirty years with stone. The range of materials we use is enormous and the different techniques we apply and the finishes we offer mean that you can fit out any type of room however you want.
