SI.PRO. di Buglione Ing. Vincenzo & C. S.a.s.

SI.PRO. Sistemi Professionali has been working in the plant sector since 1907, specialising in the planning, making and maintaining of electrical and electronic telecommunications plant.

We have always sought out and tested the best technological solutions so we are seen as reliable, and nowadays we are considered one of the best "Systems Integrators." Our head offices are in Val d'Aosta but we work throughout Italy, and are now starting to work overseas.

Staff at SI.PRO. design and make:

- security plant and systems: burglar proofing, fireproofing, CCTV, and access control;

- multimedia plant and multi-purpose lecture theatre automations control systems;
- telephone and telecommunications circuitry, and wired and wireless networks;
- sound amplification systems, simultaneous translation;
- video systems: video conferencing, video projection, and video recording of satellite and free-to-air TV;
- domestic and industrial electrics

Our company philosophy has always been to privilege quality in the services we provide to our customers, whether they work in the public or private sector, and this we do by having highly qualified staff and using the latest technology.

We have been awarded ISO 9001:2008 certification and SOA attestation for the planning and completion of public works, and are registered as a Communications Company.
