Azienda agricola Rosset S.S.

A family tradition telling us about strong ties with the land, and a natural aptitude for farming: this is why in 2001 the Rosset family decided to plant vines on land they owned at Senin de Saint-Christophe.

A plot of approximately three hectares, where the first grafts were Chardonnay and shortly afterwards Cornalyn and Syrah.

In 2005 came the first bottles of “Vigneti Rosset” Chardonnay, and shortly afterwards two fine reds: Syrah and Cornalin.

Now, Nicola Rosset is continuing in the family tradition and bringing together the search for and discovery of original vines, and giving a regional touch to quality international vines.

The company is now producing approximately 60,000 bottles a year, and tasting sessions are open for the public.
