Savio s.r.l.

SAVIO srl, a company based in Aosta Valley and founded in 1958 by Paolino Savio, has always been involved in trading liqueurs, sugar and coffee. Thanks to a consolidated organization and a 7,000- sqmwarehouse, the company has been able to face the constant challenges of the market (both on-trade and off-trade) and to meet the needs of its countless customers. Over the years, Savio srl has also been entrusted with the exclusive distribution of some brands for both the Italian and international markets and has managed to bring them to prestigious positions.

More than 30 years ago, Paolino was joined by his son Marco, who is now the CEO of the company itself. Thanks to his entrepreneurship, he has contributed to the development of new products and brands, from Génépy to Vodkas and Rums.

Among the Rums, the Savio brands called Ron Malteco and Rum Malecon are particularly successful. Produced in Panama in an artisanal way and bottled in Chatillon. The first with a round taste for those who wish to approach rum. The second more structured for connoisseurs, it reaches aging over 30 years. Launched in 2019, just before the outbreak of the pandemic, the new brand The Demon's Share, with its decidedly more captivating taste, is booming in all the international markets.
